

The Montessori Approach

The way to build a happy, healthy and successful society is to meet the needs of the very young child in the most formative stages of development. The first six years of the child's life, when unconscious learning takes place, are the most important.

The child's first step out of home has a great effect on his future feeling concerning schooling and the learning process which is why it is so important to make the right choice.

We, at Little Feat recognize and acknowledge that each child comes into this world with his own unique personality and abilities. Our task is to provide a safe, caring and healthy environment where his individuality will be respected and supported to develop his own individual potential at his own comfortable pace.

We, at Little Feat have created a special child-centered environment and placed highly specialized Montessori material. This material is self-correcting which encourages the child to detect his own mistakes and correct himself. He thus learns to educate himself independently rather than being forcefully fed with information by adults. This helps in building his self-esteem. The child becomes a problem-solver who can make choices and manage his time well. Since he has also been encouraged to exchange ideas and to discuss his work freely with others, he develops good communication skills which prepare him to settle in any new environment in the future years.

Little Feat Montessori was started out of the need for "holistic development of the child". It is managed by very well educated and motivated staff that is committed to 'make a difference'.